

On a Puritan Drunk

Dr Hayes

f What! Aa - ron drunk? p 'tis a pro - fane mis - f ay sure he reels! — p poor poor man! poor man!

- take! sad times! sad times! de - vo - tion drun - ken - man! f he reads all day! p he stu - dies hard and scarce can but see! he spews! what mat - ter, what mat - - - ter's tr - - ness to make! sad times! de - vo - tion drun - ken - ness to make!

tr see his way, he stu - dies hard and scarce can see his way, tr f p that to thee? but see he spews! 'tis but a plen - ti - ful de - - li - ve - ry.

Thus far catch, and to be repeated as such; and then follows the chorus

Thus for each crime the friends — will find ex - - cuse, but woe to

Thus for each crime the friends — will find ex - - cuse,

Thus for each crime the friends will find ex - - cuse, but him, but woe to him, but woe to him, but woe to woe, woe to him,

but woe to him whom they're dis-posed t'a-buse, him, woe to him whom they're dis-posed t'a-buse,
but woe to him whom they're dis-posed t'a-buse,

thus for each crime the friends will find ex-cuse,
thus for each crime the friends will find ex-cuse,

but woe to him, woe to
him, woe to him, but woe to him whom they're dis-posed t'a-buse,

him whom they're dis-posed t'a-buse,
him whom they're dis-posed t'a-buse,

p but woe to him _____ whom they're _____ f dis - posed _____ t'a - - buse. _____

p woe to him whom they're _____ f dis - posed _____ t'a - - buse. _____

The image shows a musical score for three voices in a single system. The key signature is three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The lyrics are: "but woe to him whom they're disposed t' a - - buse." The first voice part starts with a piano (p) dynamic and a forte (f) dynamic. The second and third voice parts also have piano and forte markings. The lyrics are written below each staff, with some words underlined and hyphens indicating syllable placement.
